DETAILED ACTION

1. The numbering of claims is not in accordance with 37 CFR 1.126 which requires the original numbering of the claims to be preserved throughout the prosecution. When claims are canceled, the remaining claims must not be renumbered. When new claims are presented, they must be numbered consecutively beginning with the number next following the highest numbered claims previously presented (whether entered or not).

Misnumbered claims 15-19 have been renumbered 10-14.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 3, 4, 7-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Peck et al.

Peck et al. Discloses a self-metering automatic industrial scale fire fighting nozzle comprising: an additive passageway 56, a fire-fighting liquid conduit 12 with a variable discharging orifice 30, and means 60/66/70 for variable occluding the additive passageway (see figure 2).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 1, 2, 5, 6, 10-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Peck et al. in view of Klein.

Peck et al. teaches all the limitations of the claims except for an automatically variable additive opening. However, Klein discloses fire-fighting valve with an automatically variable additive valve 10 with additive opening 54 that can adjust automatically with the flow rate. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to have provided the device of Peck with an automatically variable additive opening as suggested by Klein. Doing so would provide an effective fire-fighting nozzle (see Klein's column 2, lines 8+).

6. Claims 9, and 14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Peck et al. in view of Klein as applied to claims 1, 2, 6, 10-13 above, and further in view of Steingass et al.

Peck et al. in view of Klein teaches all the limitations of the claims except for a visible indicator of flow rate. However, Steingass discloses a fire-fighting nozzle with a visible indicator of flow rate 18 (see figure 1). Therefore, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to have provided the device of Peck et al. and Klein with a flow rate visible indicator as suggested by Steingass et al. Doing so would provide a way to monitoring flow rates.

Conclusion

7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The following patents are cited to show the art with respect to a fire-fighting nozzle: Williams, and Hoover.
